CAREER JUMP

Connecting business, workers, and community

Why Career Jump?

EVERYONE WINS

We match you with a motivated employee at no cost to you during their training period. This is an opportunity to help a participant back into the workforce.

At the end of the training period, your company hires a fully trained employee.

The employee gets a job that will help provide for their family, and the opportunity for career advancement

What is Career Jump?

Career Jump uses the nationally acclaimed Community Jobs Program as a model for skill development training.

We introduce you to applicants, pay their wages during their initial training period and assist you in providing training. Our goal is to help individuals get back into the workforce and find permanent jobs with advancement opportunity.

Career Jump is a great help to businesses in rural areas.

How Career Jump Works

You interview one or more pre-screened applicants. If you choose to hire from the applicant pool, Career Jump pays minimum wage and payroll taxes during the initial training period with a schedule tailored to meet your business needs.

At the end of the training period or at any point, your company hires the Career Jump individual at the prevailing wage with comparable benefits for full-time, permanent employment.

The Career Jump program has been a successful partnership for Canam Steel and I look forward to using this asset during our next round of hiring.
